HAMLIN, JONES COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1937.

NUMBER 2

New Source of Water Supply, Amount Limited Other Facts Revealed

If there is anything irritating in Hamlin it is the word "WATER."

If anyone can get any joy out of making fun of Hamlin for our water scarcity, let 'em hop at it. "We aint got no water, 'an we aint gonta get no water till it rains a devil of a lot." Fuss all you please, and say what you please if it will ease your pain.

It is mighty easy to give the City Council 'Hail to Hades' for this and that, but those old boys have troubles many know not of. Some say they have "water on the brain" and why not, they can not walk the streets but that some guy stops them and says "water."

NO MORE WATER FROM

HAMLIN'S TWO LAKES

For fear somebody will make a visit to the lakes and think the water mains are still running "fish juice" we will tell you right here that the water has gotten so low in the lakes that it would be criminal to let it ooze out into the city system. So take a new hitch on your stomach and remember many winter days, and long cold nights will likely "sterilize" the lake beds before water gets high enough to run into the mains.

Maybe all fishermen had better go out to the upper lake some hot afternoon and take a whiff. Did you ever smell rotting fish? The upper lake is a mess of fish these days, dead fish, decaying fish, burned fish. Now try eating fish after going out there. If your stomach is as tough as a steam boiler, maybe you will not have such a long memory. Really it is pitiful, and nobody can help it. However, every Hamlin citizen should visit the lakes, look around a bit and see what you see . . . and, . . . well, . . . maybe you will want to express yourself in "print."

A MAKE-SHIFT WELL NEAR

THE PUMP STATION

The anxiety of the City Council

is eased by the bringing in of a "Creek Well" not many hundred yards from the pump station. This is about the "umpteenth" time somewhere up or down the stream temporary wells have been resorted to for emergency water. This time they have tried to make something more permanent. A long trench was excavated leading to the well, by machinery furnished by the Texas Cement Plaster Co. This "war-time-looking" trench is to be bottomed with a few strings of perforated tile to increase the intake of water and then the ditch filled. The well has about eight or ten feet diameter and about 25 feet deeper than the lowest surface. In this is sunk an old steel boiler upon which will be built a concrete pumping structure so that any high water will not get above it.

This make-shift is able at present to keep plenty of water for sewer and fire purposes—BUT not a bit for irrigation, car washing or waste, unless such users want to bring about a shut-down most of the day. The water is electrically pumped from the well directly into the treating well and later lifted into the standpipe.

If anyone desires to kill what shrubbery they have we advise using the present city water. Don't use it except for sewer use or to put out a fire.

All that the Herald is saying here is purely on "our own" the Council has given out no official information or instructions. If what we say or have said does not please them, they should talk first. It's time somebody is doing a lot of talking, either correct or incorrect.

BETTER ORDER YOU A LOT OF

HEAVY GALVANIZED TANKS

One of the surest ways of having nice clean, soft water in Hamlin is to catch rain water during the months from September to May. See that it is in a substantial tank up-ground, and only let the water run in after the roof is washed.

Wonder if a "Rainwater Com-

ARMISTICE 1918—1937

LEST WE FORGET

19 YEARS AGO

ONCE AGAIN ARMISTICE DAY!

A peace loving people should always remember the "peace coming day."

Who will deny that November the 11th of 1918 was on Monday? Who among the living then and today will forget the unexpressable joy that throbbed every heart on that glorious day? Shall we forget, those of us living then, who were so anxious for our three million men in arms and for the suitable outcome of that inhuman struggle we were then engaged in?

Today those men have on memory's wall thoughts and scenes that they would like to blot out.

But let not the generation of 1918 dim their gratitude for the sacrifices the flower of our country was making to guarantee a world safe for peace loving peoples, everywhere.

The men of 1918 did not strive in vain, although events since might seem to say they fought a fruitless struggle. No human being can fathom what the situation would be today had not the United States responded to the call of hopeless countries across the Atlantic. It was a supreme sacrifice and maybe the cost was too heavy, but again we say no one can estimate what it would have been if this country had drawn itself into a shell and refused a helping hand.

Is the world better today than in 1918? That depends on how we view the picture.

Is the world as well off today as it would have been had this nation carried on as Woodrow Wilson visioned it would in the international structure of PEACE?

Has the political viewpoint of America measured up to what the world thought of us at the end of the World War?

Do we today, see not far away, what appears to be further dangers that will call for action of a great peace loving people, again. Do we fully realize that this old world has narrowed since 1918, and that our thoughts even are almost available to each and every nation of the world . . . what they do and say does effect our nation as never before?

On this day when we again rededicate ourselves to our country in memory of the men of 1918, shall we humbly ask the God of Peace that this fairland be spared from inhuman conduct and lead us into paths of sympathy and cooperation for peace sake? But may not the love of Peace lol us into a field of indifference, and unconcern while the rest of the world prepares to ravish our dear country as is being done in several nations today. Let us have thought and action go hand in hand, as we pause to remember the men of 1918.

EARLY ANNOUNCEMENT OF THANKSGIVING SERVICE

On the night of the third Sunday in November the Baptist church the Nazarene church and the Methodist church will cooperate in a Thanksgiving service. We extend to all the people of the community, members of all churches, those who belong to no church, a hearty invitation to attend. The service is to be held at the Methodist church. Brother Littleton is to preside and Brother Rutherford is to preach. The singers of the community of all churches are to furnish the music. Let everyone make a special effort to be present and lend to the usefulness of this service.

—Rev. H. W. Hanks.

McCAULEY P.-T. A. SPONSORS PLAY

The McCauley P.-T. A. is sponsoring "Rosetime," a musical comedy in three acts at the High School Auditorium, November 18-19. Rehearsals are progressing nicely and much interest is being shown by everyone.

Committees are cooperating and a large success is expected for "Rosetime."

Dr. G. D. Thurman, of Houston, and recently associated with the late Dr. J. M. Estes Sr. in Abilene has moved to Hamlin and will hereafter be connected with Dr. Turner Bynum in the Hamlin Hospital. Dr. Frank Estes has taken up the work of his father in Abilene, and Dr. Thurman will fill Dr. Estes place in Hamlin. He and his family, which means a wife and two children, little Miss Bagnal, age 7 and baby Donald, age 3 months, have their home on Central Avenue, north of the hospital in Hamlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith and daughter, Twila, and Miss Vingie Bowen returned from Dallas, Tuesday where they had been buying merchandise for the Smith Dry Goods Co.

Walter Abbott Jr., who has been employed in Fort Worth for several months returned home Monday to take a job with the West Texas Cotton Growers Association.

Mrs. M. Y. Wilson and son, M. Y., left Wednesday for Hollis, Oklahoma, to visit her son, Jack Wilson and wife.

The Herald has Carbon paper.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL STARTS

In Jones County there are chapters of the American Red Cross in Hamlin and Anson make up one chapter and Stamford the other.

This year Hamlin people will likely subscribe a full quota as committee headed by W. E. Benson will have charge. Look out for those wearing the button and get in with your dollar contribution. If we get it right fifty cents of every dollar is to remain in Hamlin for local needs. That was the plan in years gone by.

Many people never think of what they can do to help the Red Cross but think how fine it is when they hear of the Red Cross coming to the aid of suffering humanity in its ever pending calamities.

Get in on the annual subscription and when the storms, floods, and fires etc. come and you learn of what the Red Cross is doing, then they will come a feeling of satisfaction that you did your little part to make a great deed possible.

HAMLIN STORES CLOSED ALL DAY

Hamlin merchants are almost unanimous in closing for Armistice Day. This means that business will be a standstill all day this Thursday. The Herald is going out one day early also, and will be closed all day Thursday.

1937 Red Cross Poster

THE Red Cross annual roll call poster with its appeal for members is the work of Walter W. Seaton, noted New York and California artist. Seaton's portraits of radio and movie stars, his murals and posters have won him fame throughout the nation. The current poster is the second he has painted for the Red Cross, thus joining a long list of distinguished artists who since the World War years have illustrated the spirit of the Red Cross in the call for memberships. Red Cross roll call begins Armistice Day and ends Thanksgiving Day.

pany" should not be organized? It could serve a mighty good cause. There is more water lost in Hamlin, any year, than all the families could use for drinking and cooking purposes. There are many homes now with all the nice soft rainwater they can use, for domestic use. This is because they have tanks and carefully catch the water and care for it. This gives wholesome drinking water, ice and cooking water for the home.

The most important station in Hamlin these days is the "Water Station." This enterprising fellow gets the water from the Middleton Well east of Hamlin and retails it out as the thirsty customers come . . . and he will also deliver it.

Back to the emergency well . . . the city has not yet had an analysis of the water. No one can tell what all it contains, but those who are brave enough say it supplies all the elements of Crazy Crystals, epon salts and croton oil, plus old-fashioned salt. But it sure is the dinkum to put out fire.

Don't you think this is enough about water, lakes and fish?

WISE CHAPEL ITEMS

The Wise Chapel girls 4-H Club was organized on November 3, under the direction of Miss Gladys Martin, county home demonstration agent.

The officers elected were: Vada Taylor, president; Beulah Raye Rose, vice president; Alice Morrison, secretary; Keith Louise Jobe, song leader; Laverne Jones, reporter; and Mrs. D. J. Herbst, sponsor.

There were thirteen members enrolled and through the cooperation of these members we hope our club will be a success.

Census Of The Unemployed And Partly Employed To Be Taken Nov. 16

The Government is starting out on another great fact finding census. This November 16 is the beginning of a Nation-wide Census to locate and determine just who and how many persons in the nation are unemployed or partly unemployed, and also those who are on relief government projects.

REGISTRATIONS MUST BE BY INDIVIDUALS VOLUNTARILY

Every post office is the focal point for registration. The post office will deliver to each and every family a card on November 16 so that if there be any individual in that home or place unemployed they may fill out the card and return or mail to the "home post office." postage FREE.

The census must be completed by midnight of November 20.

In towns and cities of 16,000 or more the plan calls for the Mayors to be head of the census volunteer committee, according to the official bulletin on the subject. This would indicate that the smaller places would not need the aid of a committee to assist those who should be enrolled. However, in Hamlin for example a committee has been appointed to assist in this governmental work.

We note that W. E. Benson, Burns Eakin and Postmaster Harold Bonner are the key men and those needing information on the subject might do well to ask them a few questions. However, if a person can read the card will ask all the questions required and it is so plain that anyone able to hold a job can answer every detail.

Persons not receiving cards and are unemployed or partially so, should ask for them at their post office.

Mr. Roosevelt says "If you give me the facts, I will try to use them for the benefit of all who need and want work and do not have it." Don't get into your minds that this registration is for a job. It is for the future dealing with the problem of social security. Not everybody will get this into their system for many who are unemployed do not read or attend places of speeches. The census can not be absolutely accurate. Many will sign up who are really employed, for fear that in a few weeks they will be jobless.

THOSE WHO SHOULD REGISTER

It is clear that there are but three main groups who should register:

Group A—

Those able to work and want work.

Group B—

Those who have some work and want more work.

Group C—

All persons working on such government projects as WPA, NYA, CCC or other emergency work.

This census is a big job and it is to be done at the lowest possible cost to the government. Talk it and remember the day the cards will appear.

As far as the Herald can find out we do not know what one should do with his card if one should be given to him and he does not need it. Perhaps return it unsigned to the post office.

FISHER COUNTY CLUB WOMEN

A chest of drawers has been made to look like new by Mrs. L. C. Pootee, bedroom demonstrator of the county Line home demonstration club. With the aid of her daughter she removed all of the old finish with sand paper. They first used coarse sand paper and finished with fine, but each time it was rubbed with the grain of the wood. When none of the old finish was left, a good grade of clear furniture varnish was thinned with turpentine and applied with the grain of the wood, then across the grain and finally with the grain. It was allowed to dry for 48 hours and was rubbed with fine 00 sandpaper. Then two coats of varnish were applied directly from the can 48 hours apart. The surface was then dulled by rubbing it with a woolen cloth which was moistened with boiled linseed oil and in fine pumice stone. When the surface was sufficiently dull and smooth it was waxed. This was spread between several layers of chees cloth and a thin coat was applied in a circular motion. After it has stood for 15 minutes it was polished with a flannel cloth by rubbing with the grain of the wood. Since the old handles were partly missing, new glass handles and knobs were attached.

My yard demonstration improvement has been plenty of hard work but I have enjoyed every minute of it, stated Mrs. Rob Hargrove of Hackberry Home Demonstration club. I was at a loss just what to do, there were so many things that needed to be done. So I asked Miss Jewell Hipp, Assistant C. H. D. A. to come out and look things over. My husband also was present at this visit. We all talked it over together and decided what could be done first. The yard was badly blown and swept out by the high winds of west Texas. The out buildings all stood out prominently and bare. There were some "strangly" old trees partly dead that marred the picture. By looking at the yard one could not tell where the field stopped and the yard started, as there was no clear dividing line, in fact, it really was altogether. As you can imagine, we started by filling in the yard applied a good covering of barn yard fertilizer, plowed the yard deeply, then leveled. Next a strong fence or hog wire and barb wire on top was placed around the yard. We were careful to make the yard large enough to balance the house. The lawn was set in bermuda grass which is doing well having but little water other than rainfall.

A cutting bed was prepared and cuttings of armur rivera privet, jasmine, salt cedar, crepe myrtle and roses were set. 20 of the 200 are living, these are to be set in foundation after the first freeze this fall.

The shrub beds were prepared and the club members assisted in putting out the shrubs under the direction of Miss Hipp, following the plan she had drawn. 14 armur rivera privets were planted in the foundation, 2 ever green japonicas, 2 flowering quince, 2 yellow jasmine, 3 Arizona cypress were planted as group plantings to be set with nandinas and phytizer uniper next year. Salt Cedar taken from a creek were placed in the screen plantings along with wild plum. 10 Chinese elms were placed, 5 on each side of the yard, rather than in front of the house to give a more spacious feeling. The outdoor living room was located near the kitchen door to make it handy to serve meals cooked on the nice brick fire place which was constructed this summer under the direction of Miss Hipp, and assisted by club members and some of their sons. It has been enjoyed very much.

A hammock made from barrel staves and strung with medium sized galvanized wire has made a very nice piece of yard furniture.

A walk was laid of native stone in both front and back yard.

The improvements made in my yard totaled $16.85. $10.00 of this amount was for the yard fence. The value of my yard improvement work cannot be expressed in dollars and cents, although it has increased the value of the place by the appearance being improved in such a large way.

We feel we have a good start in our improvement work and by continuing to improve the yard as laid out on the three year plan we can have very attractively landscaped home grounds.

CONGRESSMAN MAKES

PRE-SESSION STATEMENT

Congressman Clyde L. Garrett issued the following statement today relative to the forthcoming session of Congress. It is with pleasure that we present it to our readers:

"Last week I closed my office in Eastland preparatory to returning to my duties in Washington. In a statement made before the adjournment of Congress on August 21 I said that I would gladly remain there, or return in the special session, if the resident saw fit to call one, if I thought that some form of farm legislation could be enacted which would give the heavy loss that threatened our farmers. Our great leaders felt that it was best for adjournment to take place and that then we could come back if necessary after the situation had begun to crystallize. The President has called us to return to Washington on a program embracing the following:

Wages and hours legislation, reorganization of the federal departments, organization of sectional power and flood control units, and crop control legislation.

Most of my time I have been in the district has been taken up with me litigation arising from the campaign of last year. I had to devote any long hours for the first few weeks preparing for the trial and then was in Abilene for two weeks in hearing. It had been my plan to sit with many of our people during the time I was here but since so much time was consumed in this litigation my chance to see you and learn your problems and desires has been very limited. In the time at my disposal I have tried to see as many as I could and find out from your collective thinking just what the people of this district wanted done in this hour of their own crisis. Those whom I have contacted have been very frank in their avowals and have given me much light on what they think will work for the best interest of all people, and which I deeply appreciate.

With their thoughts before me and their problems clearly set out I am not afraid to face the task, for in the collective thinking of even those whom I have been able to see and talk with I believe I have a very fine cross section of the opinion of our people.

The war situation is about the most absorbing topic of the day. I said when I presented myself to your consideration last year that I was opposed to war in any form and would not vote to send any of our boys over seas to fight again. I still am of the same opinion and do not think there is any need for us to get mixed up in a foreign war if the neutrality laws are enforced as Congress intended them to be. We do not want war and will not have it if we do not go seeking it by meddling in other nations' affairs. To keep out of war at this time will be far cheaper and mean more for the future than to fight a winning fight and spend millions of lives and billions of treasure. I believe that there should be some means devised to increase the income of our people and unless something better is found in a very short time there is going to be a minimum wage and maximum hours law passed. I believe that seasonal labor, such as agricultural work and processing, continuous process work such as oil field work and emergency work should be exempt from too rigorous a law of this kind. I do not think that a federal board should have the power that it is proposed to invest them with in the present bill but I am of the opinion that it should be a flexible law with the courts being the ones to handle the issues on the basis of right and wrong and not on the inflexibles of the rulings of a board of five men. However, a large part of the need for the law will be obviated when, and if, business continues to improve and the wage earners of the nation once more become busy with their tasks.

I am in favor of the abolition of many boards, bureaus and commissions within the departments of the government. I am in favor of surrendering any of the prerogatives of the government to any group who will have the last word to say on such changes. It should be done by laws enacted by Congress and done in the open after full and complete public hearings.

I believe that there should be a comprehensive and complete flood control plan worked out by Congress. By the use of dams and flood by-ways and other means there should be some manner whereby the huge floods of the past can be prevented. Then if power comes as a by-product of such work that power should be used for the development of industry to the fullest. However, flood control should be the primary purpose with irrigation as a second consideration and power, with its wrangling and bitterness of the past should be the very minor consideration. Water should be controlled to keep down its destructive agency and then put back on the land for the enrichment of the soil and the prosperity of the land owner or user.

I am in favor of some crop control measure which will insure the farmer the maximum price for the crop which it will produce. If this be through the debenture plan or the domestic allotment plan then I am for it. I do not believe that the land should be abandoned nor the farmer forced from it by curtailment of production. We once controlled the world market on cotton and wheat. We can do so again if we will use one or the other of the plans above and insure our farmers that the crop they raise will bring them an income commensurate with their efforts. Then put the surplus on the world market to bring the world price.

I expect to leave Eastland soon and will be in Washington and if you have thoughts along these or any other lines that might be of help to me in helping you solve your problems feel free to write to me. They might be the force that would turn the tide for the very thing which would benefit all of us to the greatest extent.

FARM NEWS

A joint meeting of local leaders and the Agricultural Council has been called for Saturday, November 13th, at 2:30 p. m. in the District Court Room, Anson, for the purpose of discussing and adopting a 4-H Club Program for the year.

A series of Agricultural Conservation Educational meetings have been held in Jones County, at the following communities: Boyds Chapel, Hawley, Centerline, Pleasant Hill, Cross Roads, Tuxedo, New Hope, Lueders, Willow Creek, Plainview, Wilson and Avoca.

These meetings were for the purpose of discussing the agricultural situation as it exists today.

A nine ton trench silo was filled by Glyndell Barbee and Weldon Barbee of the Noodle-Horn 4-H Club. This trench was filled with hegari and will be opened next spring, to feed out two 4-H Club calves, which these boys are taking as their demonstration.

Glyn Tarpley and Cleo Sosebee of the same club, report that they have finished filling their trench silos, for their club calves, to be fed from next spring.

Mrs. C. L. Thurman of the Corinth Community reports that her flock of poultry laid an average of nine eggs during the month of October. She fed laying mash and grain, totaling $14.75. Total receipts were $24.33. Labor and investment for the month amounted to $9.58 for the month.

Mrs. Thurman states that her pullets are not in production at this time, which brings her average down.—Report from County Agent Lynch.

ELEMENTARY P-T. A.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Elementary school met in regular session Thursday afternoon at four o'clock. The meeting was well attended and interest ran high. The meeting was opened with a prayer, led by Mr. Clements. Then after the singing of America by the audience led by Mrs. Farrow, the business was taken up. Mrs. Martin, president, received reports from the committees, who showed by their reports that they were active and enthusiastic. Particularly interesting was the report of the membership committee that our goal of two hundred members had been reached, with an additional one hundred and twenty in the high school association. The project undertaken by the association, that of supplying a curriculum for the auditorium and making improvements in the auditorium was discussed and it was decided that the school would, by some means, accomplish this work.

After the business meeting, a short and very interesting program was given by the room of Miss Pat Allitt.

Winners in the membership contest: Miss Pat Allitt, first prize, $10.00; Miss Katherine Adkins, second prize, one dollar.

Winners in attendance of mothers meeting Thursday: Miss Pat Allitt, first, and Mr. Hastings, second.

Most attractive poster showing P-T-A. members, obtained in each room was voted to be that of the second grades taught by Mrs. Farrow and Mrs. Mayhew.

FOR A COLLEGE BOY'S DAD

(From an editorial in the Rotarian Magazine)

They tell us every day in every graphic way that college men and women do a deal of "doodling," which is true. But they fail to say that in odd moments those lively, handsome young folks do quite a little worrying, too, worrying about their individual futures.

Maybe your "kid" is back for his first week-end at home. Maybe you've wanted to give him a fatherly boost, but haven't known quite how to start. Cut to fit your predicament is this bit of advice from the distinguished scholar Charles A. Beard:

---"I have found the world to be as Emerson says, all doors, all opportunities. Life itself is crowded with unexpected occasions and choices. It is impossible to plan for them accurately in advance. The greatest opportunities come suddenly, out of a clear sky. When I was young, I worried about the long future, so clouded with uncertainty, but I found in time that it was futile. So I would say now to youth: go forward with the work in hand, the plain duties and obligations immediately ahead, seek accurate knowledge, strive for the widest possible outlook on life, fear no evil, establish habits of fairness and mercy, seek to understand others through sympathy rather than hatred, waste no time over mistakes that cannot be remedied, and march onward with firm confidence that one so equipped in spirit and mind cannot fail to find gateways to labor and reward worth while and to enduring satisfactions. Such, at least, is my confession of findings in this world of almost baffling mysteries and choices.

KNOW TEXAS

By F. L. McDONALD, T. S. C. W. NEWS BUREAU, DENTON

HORSES VERSUS CARS AGAIN

Horses and mules evidently still have an edge on the "horseless carriage" in Texas, there being over a million of them as compared with about 950,000 automobiles according to the 1936 tax figures. However, they are just worth twenty-five million dollars, while eighty-seven millions are invested in Texas automobiles. This evaluation for cars is almost a million higher than in 1935, but the number of cars has decreased. Texans seem to be going in for quality rather than quantity in transportation.

RUN, GOBBLER, RUN

Wild or tame, old man turkey is in for it now. If he's wild his gloomy season starts November 16th and lasts through December 31, when both north and south zone hunters are welcome to make him a target, providing they don't kill more than 3 gobblers a season. However, there are 39 counties without open season at any time, so he might try hiding.

The fact of tame turkeys is even more inevitable, especially in this state, which has the largest turkey crop in the world. Besides the home supply over 1600 carloads of this Thanksgiving favorite are shipped out annually. Cuero, center of the industry, has a yearly "Turkey Trot", when thousands of the birds are driven down the main street of town.

HEALTH NOTES

By Geo. W. Cox., M. D., State Health Officer

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 10.—"With colder weather on its way to Texas, it's time to think about home temperatures during the winter months, states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"There is evidence that thousands of homes are constantly over heated during the winter. In fact, many families tolerate an indoor temperature during the colder months to which they would and do strenuously object in the summer. Such persons are not only uneconomical with their fuel supply, but are endangering their health as well," Dr. Cox continued.

"People living in homes with overheated temperatures become soft, the system is weakened and is at a decided disadvantage in defending itself against the sudden change from a too great intramural heat to the penetrating cold.

"Consequently colds, bronchial troubles and pneumonia, taking advantage of the situation, step in and do much unnecessary, and not infrequently, fatal damage. You will agree that this is entirely too high a price to pay for a few extra degrees of unneeded heat.

"We all know families who are starting on their annual scourge of colds and sore throats. But this does not altar their affinity for super heat. They ignore the fact that 68 to 70 degrees is the best temperature. A thermometer kept within that range, plus proper humidity, is a definite safe guard. We need that safe guard. What does your thermometer read?"

Mrs. J. F. Taylor returned Saturday from Fort Worth where she has been visiting her son, Frank Taylor, and wife. She was accompanied home by her sister, Mrs. Brannon, of Dallas, who will spend several weeks here.

CHITTENDEN HEIR HANDBALL EXPERT

Daniel Gane Chittenden, one of the heirs of the estate of the late William Lawrence Chittenden, has been nationally famous as a handball champion for many years, winning many trophies and cups for the L. A. Athletic Club, Hollywood, Athletic Club, L. A. Architectural Club, and many others, and is hoping when he comes to Jones County during the drilling of the test wells on the estate, that he may be extended the opportunity of some competition in a good hand ball match. This, of course, provided he can find time to get away from the activities that are taking place at the present time on the estate.

Recently, Mack Mays, Lewis Production started drilling a test well on the Southern two thousand acres of the estate, and now another 1600 acre tract has been leased to the California firm of Bass and Goodnight, who contemplate an innovation in this section. They agree to a program of continuous drilling on blicks 6, 9, 20, and 23, starting around the first of the year, and guaranteeing at least one well to every twenty acres in these blocks. If the champion lease arranger, and potential oil land owner can get away long enough to Anson, Hamlin or Abilene, when he arrives in December, he hopes to run into some good competition in the Texas hand ball courts.

MEMORIAL PARK PLANNED IN HONOR OF LATE WILLIAM

LAWRENCE CHITTENDEN

During his recent visit to Anson, Daniel Gane Chittenden, one of the heirs of the late William Lawrence Chittenden discussed preliminary arrangements in planning for a memorial park in memory of "Luck Larry" on the escarpment at the west end of the Chittenden ranch. He agrees it would be particularly appropriate within the next few months in view of fact that the first test well now being drilled on the estate by Mack Mays-Lewis Production is to designated as the "Larry Chittenden No. 1. and the contemplated test well by Bass and Goodnight and the northern structure to be designated as the "Windy Billy No. 1."

Windy Billy is the character well known thru-out Jones County mentioned in "The Cowboy's Xmas Ball", written by the late William Lawrence Chittenden, poet-laureate of Texas. The Windy Billy No. 1, however, will have several running mates next year, as the California firm of Bass and Goodnight, oil drillers who have leased approximately 1600 acres, have contracted for a program of continuous drilling with at least one well to every 20 acres, their 1st well to be spudded in around the first of the year in block 9 of the Chittenden Estate.

According to geologists, the escarpment on the west end of the property clearly defines two structures on the estate, with the southern structure now being drilled by Mack Hayes-Lewis Production Co., and the northern structure to be drilled by Bass and Goodnight drillers who are soon to enter the Texas fields.

It seems apparent that, according to the tradition of "Lucky Larry" a new producing field should be properly honored by a memorial park on the escarpment in honor of the late William Lawrence Chittenden. "Lucky Larry," thus, his nephew Daniel Gane Chittenden of Hollywood, California is trying to complete details with the other legatees of the estate.

Another year gone by that takes us one step farther from the great disaster which rocked all nations 20 years ago—the World War. Another year gone by that brings us one step nearer the climax of enormous questions facing the world today—will the climax mean war?

Today is Armistice, a day observed by a peace loving nation commemorating the end of a conflict and the returning reign of peace. To celebrate such a day seems rather ironic with the growing and darkening war clouds across the water. Yet, this impending danger and the horrible and nasty memories of '17-'18 should imprint the desire for peace upon every human heart and make PEACE the watchword of every citizen of this great nation of ours.

Well, Well, ye Editor and the owners of Texas' Largest Hatchery certainly showed evidence of three great virtues this week when they purchased and planted those tender green shrubs. Faith, Hope and Courage we'll call it—Faith in the country that it will rain; Hope that the shrubs will grow; Courage to 'put the poor little things out.'

From our neighbor, the Odessa News-Times, we note: From down the country comes the first practical recipe we have seen for preserving fenders when parking down town. Choose a space between two shiny new machines. They will back out carefully, not scratching a single fender. Mr. Farmer Read and Keep Requirements in Cotton Program

The following information has been received from College Station, giving requirements which cotton producers must meet before they are eligible to receive the subsidy payments: In order to be eligible to receive a 1937 Cotton Price Adjustment Payment, a producer must do two things, namely (1) sell his cotton prior to July 1st, 1938, and (2) comply with the provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Adjustment Program formulated under legislation contemplated by Senate Joint Resolution No. 207, 75th Congress, approved August 24, 1937 (Public Resolution No. 69.)

The first requirement relates to cotton produced in 1937. The second requirement relates to farming operations carried on in 1938, which may or may not be conducted on the same farm on which the producer was located in 1937. The data with respect to the sales from the 1937 crop must be correlated with the proof of compliance with the 1938 Agricultural Program.

It is proposed that the application for payment under the 1937 cotton price adjustment payment plan, which cannot be executed until a producer complies with the 1938 program mentioned above, will be submitted by the producer through the county office for the county in which he was located in 1937, in order that the application may be verified against the record kept in that office with respect to the sales of the producer's cotton.

It is suggested, therefore, that all producers who will not be located in 1938 on the same farm on which they were located in 1937 be advised to record any change of address in the county office for the county in which they farmed in 1937. It is believed that this will permit the most efficient handling of applications. The producer will have an opportunity, at the time he records his change of address, to certify as to the records of his cotton production and sales.

The official announcement of the C. A. P. Program by the Secretary of Agriculture, as set forth in CAP-100, stated that a producer would receive payment "on 65 percent of his base cotton production which was or could have been established under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program." The Washington office now advises that a producer will be eligible to receive a cotton price adjustment payment in respect to cotton produced on a farm which is planted to cotton for the first time in 1937. The method of determining the cotton base production for such a farm has not been definitely worked out, but will be outlined to the county office as soon as it is received.

The regulations governing the filing of Cotton Sales Certificates in the County Offices have been changed to read as follows: "For sales made up to and including Oct. 15, 1937, buyer's receipts or Cotton Sale Certificates must be filed not later than Oct. 30, 1937, and for sales made after Oct. 15, 1937, such forms must be filed not later than 15 days after the date of sale."

No provision will be made for recognizing any pledge or assignment of a cotton price adjustment payment. Cotton price adjustment payments will be made in the form of checks to individual eligible producers.

The law permits recognition only of the first actual sale of cotton made in good faith by the producer of the cotton in the usual channels of trade. Obviously a person cannot make a sale to himself. For example, a transfer of cotton from the unit of department of a corporation, association, or partnership which produced it to another unit or department of the same corporation, association, or partnership could not be considered to be a sale. Likewise, a person who operates a gin is not making a sale when he as a ginner takes charge of a bale of cotton which was produced by or for him as a farmer.

Where there has been any sort of a so-called wash sale; that is, a transaction purporting to be a sale where in fact, it is not contemplated that the title of the cotton should pass irrevocably or unconditionally from the producer to the buyer, or it is provided or intended that the title is to come back to the producer it is evident that there has not been a sale of the cotton within the meaning of the plan. For example, where the producer transfers the title to the cotton to the buyer for money or something of value, and the buyer agrees to re-vest the title to the cotton in the producer for the same or other consideration, it cannot be said to be a sale of cotton. The producer must part with titles to the cotton without reservation of any interest therein and must not reacquire title thereto.

That part of a cotton crop abandoned before it is picked shall be deemed to have been produced and harvested by or for the person who had the right to harvest it, and the person by or for whom it is rightfully harvested should obtain a buyer's sale receipt or sale certificate covering such cotton when he sells it.

Cotton which is sold unknicked in the field shall be deemed to have been produced and harvested by or for the person who bought such cotton only (a) if a cotton crop on the farm in question was cultivated by

HAVE YOU ever thought how little the Pilgrims actually had for which to give thanks? How infinitely more blessed are we of today! But it was those brave souls who, through love for home and family, made Thanksgiving Day a national institution—a day for reflection on our domestic bliss. And our blessings have increased year after year until 1937 finds many thousands of West Texans possessed of all-electric homes . . . enjoying the Electrical Standard of Living. It is a mode of life—comfort and ease—undreamed by the Pilgrims. Its adoption has been swift in West Texas, so swift that this Thanksgiving finds a larger percentage of West Texans living in electrical security than do average Americans. We live better because every man who ever loved his family has sought to provide the advantages of Electric Service.

or for such person in 1937 or (b) if such person at the time of or prior to the purchase of such cotton acquires ownership of such farm or becomes the cash tenant, the standing-rent tenant, or share tenant on such farm for 1937 or 1938.

The landlord who purchases his tenant's or cropper's cotton after it has been harvested should execute and give to the tenant or cropper, Form CAP-101, Cotton Sale Certificate, covering the tenant's share of the cotton so purchased. At the time the landlord sells the cotton he will not obtain a sale certificate for that part he purchased from the tenant, except that in case the tenant's share of a bale jointly owned is purchased by the landlord the sale certificate the landlord obtains should show in the lower portion thereof the division of the cotton between the landlord and the tenant and a note should be entered by the name of the tenant as follows: "Purchased by landlord on (date), and tenant's sale certificate filed." The date should be the date on which the cotton was sold by the tenant to the landlord, who should see to it that both sale certificates are promptly and timely filed at the county office.

A landlord by waiving his lien in order that a tenant may place his share of cotton produced in 1937 under the Commodity Credit Corporation loan will not be bound to comply with the 1938 agricultural adjustment program unless he also enters into a loan agreement. Such tenants entering into the loan agreement and failing to participate in the 1938 program will be liable for any deficiency between the amount of the loan plus charges and the amount realized on the cotton which may be sold under terms of the loan.

Insofar as the 1937 loans are concerned, the provision that a holder of the note may declare it immediately due and payable, upon the failure of the producer-borrower to participate in a program offered to cotton producers with respect to the production and marketing of the 1938 cotton crop, is operative only in the event the person obtaining the loan is farming in 1938.

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

DENTON, Nov. 5.—Are you one of the thousands of women who say to themselves daily, "I wish I could spend just one day in New York's ritziest fashion salon and get outfitted from head to foot!"

If this is your theme song, and if, like the majority of us, your wish is just another pipe dream, take one afternoon off and try following my mirror. You cannot begin until you recipe: First step, get a full length recognize all assets and liabilities. If you are too broadshouldered, too longwaisted, or too anything your best chance lies in facing facts.

After a candid examination of the appearance you present to the world, drag out your ntre stock of clothes and put them in three piles—wearable now, non-wearable but with possibilities, and hopeless wrecks.

Distribute the hopeless wrecks to your cook, your best friend and your favorite poor family, and dive into the wearable pile. Ask three questions of each garment: Is it becoming? Is it up-to-date? Is it appropriate? Go through those which pass the test, checking snaps, hem-lines and worn places, and hang them in a place of honor.

Now you're ready for the fun—odds and ends with make-over possibilities. Five agencies are at your command for this process, dyes, ribbon and button counters, magazine and newspaper pictures, seamstresses and your own imagination. Be not afraid to rip and tear, and remember that this is a season when you can mix your wardrobe hilariously and not get any crazier results than may appear in the best fashion magazines.

Girls at Texas State College for Women tried this inventory plan and discovered that it works beautifully. So, even though you can't have your heart's desire of going to New York you can achieve the smartly dressed effect that would be the goal of your trip.

Mrs. Boyd and children, Mrs. Lois and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wright from Rule were in Hamlin Saturday on business.

THE REST OF THE RECORD

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

A few of the big daily papers and Senator Shivers of Port Arthur have criticized me because I said over the radio that unless the Legislature provided revenues, pension payments would be stopped after November 1. Now that the Board of Control has announced that payments will be made at least for the next two months these papers and this Senator are trying to make it appear that I misrepresented things.

If they wanted to be fair they would tell the people that before I made my radio speech the State Board of Control, which handles pensions, made a written statement to the Legislature that payments would be stopped unless the Legislature provided money. These papers and this Senator knew that I relied upon the statement of the Board of Control in making my appeal for aid.

But, in any event, it doesn't make much difference who made the statement first. The rest of the record is this:

For over a year now the Board of Control has owed $1,626,000 to Dallas banks on warrants issued before the tax bills went into effect. I told the Legislature last January this would have to be paid. No provision was made for it. I told the Legislature again during the special session that this should be paid. Nothing was done about it. Meantime, however, the Dallas bank had been demanding its money and the Board of Control had agreed to pay it. They told the bank positively that they would take care of it if the Legislature didn't at the special session. This was the reason they issued the statement that payments would be stopped unless the Legislature provided more money. Now the Legislature didn't make provisions for paying this money, which simply meant that if the bank continued to insist upon its money then the Board of Control would have to cut payments out completely for at least two months, just as they said they would. However, the Board has prevailed upon them to accept payments of $100,000 a month for November and December so that they can go ahead and make November and December payments. They are to work out other arrangements for paying the balance to the bank about January 1st.

Naturally I am pleased to know that according to the Board of Control's statement old age assistance can go on through the next two months. One member of the Board of Control, Mr. John Wallace, testified that payments would not be stopped at all and there would be no reduction of the rolls. I had been hearing that they were going to cut off several thousand, and was not surprised yesterday when Mr. Little testified before a legislative committee that this was inevitable since the Legislature had failed to provide more money.

Whether the board pays the debt of $1,626,000 to the banks in installments or all at once, any school boy could figure out that the board has got to cut the rolls or cut the average of $14 per month. For that reason, I regret the ray of false hope which has been held out to the old people when the day of reckoning is inevitable.

I am opposed to dropping any more needy aged from the rolls. I think that many of the so-called border line cases should be put on the rolls rather than lopping them off, particularly during the coming weeks when winter will be setting in. The present $14 a month payment is not enough for a pension especially with the added suffering that will result from the winter months.

Another angle of suffering is the relief problem which is linked with that of old age assistance. The aged needy who are dropped from the rolls must be cared for by someone. If they turn to the relief rolls for help, they will find the lines swollen by an estimated 325,000 people. This figure according to the relief administrator compares unfavorably with the lesser number of 166,779 last January when public works projects removed many from indigent rolls.

Neither the state nor federal governments are able to supply money for direct aid but only relief in the form of surplus foodstuffs and some clothing. With the suffering of the aged people added to that of those unfortunates without employment, it is obvious the cry of the destitute will be heard over Texas in the midst of the rainy old winter months.

With these will be the needy blind

When this situation comes to pass, the question "Why?" will be on the lips of every citizen.

That question will be directed at the corporation senators—Hollbrook and company—whose jobs of scuttling the social security financing program cost the state a $200,000 session but saved the wealthy natural resource groups from shouldering a humanitarian burden.

Their attitude "Am I my brothers' keeper?" will be the target for those needy unfortunates whose faith was not kept.

McCAULEY MATTERS

By JOHN P. HARDESTY

The 4-H Club girls of McCauley, accompanied by Mrs. H. P. Powers, spent last Saturday in Sweetwater.

The talent program sponsored by the Methodist Church and given last Thursday night in the school auditorium was attended by a full house. The program was very interesting and was successful also from a financial standpoint.

Mr. E. C. Waldrop of Rosebud was in McCauley on business last week-end.

Wiley Martin and family of Abilene visited McCauley relatives during the past week-end.

Rev. John P. Hardesty is attending the General Baptist Convention of Texas at El Paso this week. His pulpit was filled Sunday morning by Bro. Wesley Akins and Sunday night by Bro. Roy Hennington. There were five additions to the church Sunday night.

Miss Nell Riney and Miss Hettie Logan Clay spent last week-end at their homes in Abilene.

Conway Moffett and family of Sylvester visited friends in McCauley community Sunday.

Donald Hendrickson had the misfortune of getting his foot severely injured in a basketball game last week. Although he is walking on crutches, his foot is improving rapidly.

The McCauley outsiders have a basketball team which has played several games recently. Whether they have won a game or not, the writer is not prepared to say. But they play the game fair, and are interested in playing other games.

Huie Parker, who has been working as a surveyor in California for several months, has returned to his home at McCauley.

Miss Imogene Schulze visited with Abilene friends Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. W. F. Davison is attending the Baptist Convention and visiting her daughter, Daisy Mae, in El Paso, this week.

Miss Marie Moore of Clyde, niece of Mrs. B. F. Short, is visiting in the home of the Shorts.

Miss Kenna Rector spent last week-end with her friend, Miss Elva Lee Jones, of Cross Plains.

It is neither summer-time nor springtime in McCauley. But it is decidedly "Rosetime." The Wayne P. Sewell production, "Rosetime," will be staged in the school auditorium Thursday and Friday nights, November 18 and 19. Admission prices are 15 cents for school children and 25 cents for adults. You will shorten your life a great deal if you fail to enjoy the "Rosetime" season.

Strength During MIDDLE LIFE

Strength is extra-important for women going through the change of life. Then the body needs the very best nourishment to fortify it against the changes that are taking place.

In such cases, Cardui has proved helpful to many women. It increases the appetite and aids digestion, favoring more complete transformation of food into living tissue, resulting in improved nutrition and building up and strengthening of the whole system.

PRESERVE BEAUTY OF HIGHWAY

Sounding the tocsin, "Preserve the autumn beauty of our highways and roadside parks!" the State Highway Department, through Jac L. Gubbels landscape architect, today announced a vigorous two-month campaign against the wanton picking of berries, flowers and colored leaves from shrubs and trees along the roadsides of Texas.

"With the nip of fall in the air, many of our berries, particularly the beauty berries, familiarly known as the 'French mulberry,' and even some of the edible berries, already are turning red," he said. "Together with the fast-coloring leaves, these are among the principal items of beautification on our highways at this time of the year."

"We earnestly hope the children especially in our rural communities will lead the parade in our campaign against these depredations of thoughtless highway users, not because it is the law, but because sentiment is behind us. If the traveler feels a particular urge to pick the colored leaves and berries, he should go far away from the right of way."

Mr. Gubbels suggested that edible berries known to have been picked from roadsides should not be bought when offered for sale.
